Planet Word • Museum of Language Arts

PLANET
WORD

Located in the heart of downtown Washington, D.C., Planet Word is where language comes to life. This free, one-of-a-kind museum invites visitors of all ages to celebrate words, language, and reading. Through its state-of-the-art interactive exhibits, its exclusive events with writers, poets and linguists, and its nationally sought-after education programs, Planet Word brings the language arts alive for thousands of visitors and students each year.

Planet Word is the bold and imaginative manifestation of a simple truth: Words matter. Philanthropist and educator Ann Friedman envisioned a museum to inspire a love of language, and spearheaded a transformational restoration of the historic Franklin School, which today stands as a cornerstone of the revitalized Franklin Park neighborhood. The museum opened its doors in 2020.

Joyful, innovative, immersive, and voice-activated, Planet Word has re-imagined what a 21st-century museum can be—the experience of a lifetime.

BECOME A CORPORATE MEMBER TODAY!

Benefits of Corporate Membership

Short Story Dispenser

We want to tailor a membership that works especially for you. Corporate members are invited to customize their packages by adding:

SPECIAL EVENT SPONSORSHIP

Sponsor a single event or series of events, includes:

- exclusive acknowledgement of support
- volunteer opportunities for employees and their families

EXCLUSIVE BRANDING OPPORTUNITIES

Sponsor an installation at the museum, such as:

- Short Story Dispenser — Located in the Welcome Lobby, the touch of a button produces a free short story or poem for every guest to take home. Planet Word produces the most stories of any Short Story Dispenser around the globe!
- Franklin Park Journal — Part of a uniquely engaging installation in the newly-renovated Franklin Square Park, Planet Word's waterproof journals provide a point of contemplation and connection for visitors who discover its welcoming pages.

Mission Critical Support of our Education and Impact Initiatives

Support Planet Word's literacy programs:

- ▶ Own Your Story Project — Join Planet Word's effort to get books into the hands of young readers, ensuring children in our region receive equal access to age-appropriate, culturally relevant, and inspiring reading materials.
- ▶ Words on the Bus — Help us champion equitable field trip access for Title I D.C. Schools by providing buses and books, so that all local students can discover the magic of words, language, and reading at Planet Word.
- ▶ Community Literacy Network — Support our growing partnerships with more than 60 organizations that host tutor trainings, book give-aways, and educational programs at Planet Word. Help bring student groups participants to the museum for free.
